

Hooky on wrong end of a shock

Oxon Senior Cup

HOOK Norton were dumped out of the Oxon Senior Cup by AFC Hinksey in Saturday's second round tie.

The Oxon Senior League side shocked the UHLSport Hellenic League outfit with a 4-1 victory despite Hooky taking an early lead.

Marlon Kabi's 30 yard strike caught out keeper Karl Adams but, after debutant Jamie McCuig went close, the hosts were soon back on level terms through Tyrone Beckett after he raced clear to score. Hinksey took an interval lead when Toby Webster floated an inch perfect ball for Jerome McCalmon to score with a delicate chip on the half volley.

McCuig almost doubled Hinksey's lead when his fierce shot on the turn rebounded off the underside of the bar.

But Hinksey extended their lead in the second half when Marlon James shot home through a crowded box. It was no surprise when Hinksey grabbed a fourth, James this time turned provider when he slipped the ball through to McCuig, who ended Hooky's hopes with an emphatic finish.
